Risk Levels and Response Triggers

Recovery and Post-Pandemic Review

This section outlines the procedures for recovery and review following a pandemic event. It ensures a structured return to normal operations and captures key learnings for future preparedness.

Post-Pandemic Performance Review

A comprehensive analysis will follow the active response phase. This review will assess the effectiveness of all response activities. It will also analyze the use of resources during the pandemic. The review seeks to identify areas of strength and areas needing improvement.

Documentation of Lessons Learned

All lessons learned will be formally documented. This report will include specific recommendations. These recommendations will focus on improving future pandemic preparedness. A thorough evaluation of the pandemic response will be conducted within 90 days of the declared end of the emergency. This evaluation will assess the effectiveness of implemented strategies, the efficiency of resource allocation, and the overall impact on business operations. Key performance indicators (KPIs) will be established prior to the evaluation to measure success and identify areas for improvement. The evaluation will also include feedback from employees and stakeholders to ensure a comprehensive understanding of the response effectiveness.
